

INTERNATIONAL RECOVERIES OF INTEREST

International recoveries above, a striped marlin tagged on the Rips and re-caught off Perth, Australia travelling 5250 miles in just 195 days, a broadbill tagged on the NKB and re-caught on the Mid Indian Ridge travelling 3600 miles, a blue marlin re-caught off Iran travelling 2620 miles in 249 days, another broadbill tagged off the NKB was re-caught off Port Elizabeth, South Africa travelling 2400 miles in 1 year 6 days and a black marlin tagged off Watamu and re-caught off Yemen travelling 1880 miles in 159 days.

Long range recoveries had been restricted to broadbill and marlin until the 15th of December 2006 when a sailfish was recaptured by a commercial trawler on the Atlantic Indian Ridge travelling 3923 miles in just 39 days, as seen on the inserted map.